JUNIORS.

charged their duties. We at once assumed the leadership in school affairs, holding a dance as the first N. F. A. social function of the term. Our prestige was yet further increased when, inspired by our banner of Blue and Silver, we overwhelmingly triumphed against the Seniors in the Cheering Contest. Nevertheless we condescended to allow the crestfalien Seniors to accompany us to the regions about Washington Lake where we attired Mother Earth witn sweet-smelling cedars. As in all our endeavors, Juniors demonstraed their superiority by being successful in obtaining more places on Academy athletic teams than the other classes combined. The issuing of the Junior number of the "Graduate" marked the conclusion of our extra-curriculum activities.

Now, if by these hints the reader can help himself to a further discovery of the nature and content of these travels, he is welcome to as much light as they afford him. I am obliged, by all the ties of honor not to speak more openly except to say that we will probably undertake a fourth journey on Moving Day. —but whither who knows?

CHARLES L. KADES.

Time is a fast-bound train and it has borne the Sophomore Class quickly through the realms of work, play, and study in N. F. A. We are now nearing the end of our journey. We are expecting any moment to hear Examination Results,

The Editors and Publishing Board wish to thank all those through whose interest and support the 1922 "Graduate" has been able to attain such a degree of success as it may have reached: our subscribers, and especially our advertisers, who have made the publication of the "Graduate" financially possible; our contributors, who have supplied the substance of the magazine; and our teachers, who by kindly criticism and helpful suggestion have made our task so much lighter.

Miss Margaret T. McDonald, '17, has had two stories accepted by "St. Nicholas" Magazine, which will be published at a later date. Since Miss McDonald began her literary career in the Newburgh Academy, the "Graduate," honored by the success which has come to an alumna of our school is reprinting the story, "The Man From Amsterdam," which was written by Miss McDonald for the "Academy Graduate" for March, 1916.

FAREWELL.

Now the time has come for the Class of 1922 to bid farewell to the Newburgh Free Academy. It is not with the most joyful feelings that we do this, for in these halls we have spent four of the best and happiest years of our lives. All of us, as we turn to go, feel in our hearts the sadness of the parting. "Vale, vale, vale."
